

When to See an Advisor (Or Not)

You should see an advisor for:

- Assigning transfer equivalencies for courses you took before you enrolled at Binghamton.
- DARS exceptions for transfer courses and courses outside the economics department.
- Pre-approval for courses you want to take at another institution. You should first refer to the Guidelines below for information on department policy regarding transfer courses.
<http://www2.binghamton.edu/economics/undergraduate/documents/TransferCourseGuidelines.pdf>
- Questions about the major
- Scheduling questions
- Career plans
- Grading issues (after seeing your instructor)

You do NOT Need to see an advisor for:

- Declaring the major – see procedures at http://www2.binghamton.edu/economics/undergraduate/documents/Declare_Econ.pdf)
- Changing from the BA to the BS – follow the instructions on the form found at http://www2.binghamton.edu/economics/undergraduate/documents/Change_of_Major_Form.doc
- Changing from the BS to the BA – follow the instructions on the form found at http://www2.binghamton.edu/economics/undergraduate/documents/Change_of_Major_Form.doc
- Dropping the Major – follow the instructions on the form found at http://www2.binghamton.edu/economics/undergraduate/documents/Change_of_Major_Form.doc
- A repeated course that is not counting on your DARS – go to Harpur Advising at <http://harpur-advising.binghamton.edu/answerdesk/>